

Associated Terminals Welcomes Technology Group to Team

Associated Terminals is pleased to announce that Matthew Magnuson, Lance Lambert and Curtis Blank Jr. have joined the Associated Terminals' team. Matt, Lance and Curtis join the company from St. James Technologies.

The team will be responsible for our overall technology initiatives for Associated Terminals and Turn Services. Through their tenure at St. James Technologies, they have developed an understanding of stevedoring operations and are expected to further enhance the companies' operational efficiencies through the use of technology.

Matthew Magnuson will serve as the Chief Technology Officer of both companies. Lance Lambert will hold the position of IT Senior Application Developer and Curtis Blank Jr. joins the team as Engineering Intern.
